Literacy Week

Please help us celebrate our Literacy Week which will run from October 16th – 23rd! From now until Tuesday, October 22rd, we are asking for donations of gently used books for our pop-up Starbooks Café. The Starbooks Café will be open on Wednesday, October 23rd. On that day, students will be encouraged to come and pick up something new to read. Please bring, or have your student drop off, any book donations to the main office.

As part of our Literacy week, we will be hosting a Scholastic Book Fair. If you are able to volunteer to help set up, run, and/or take down please email our Learning Commons Facilitator, Michelle Redman (michelle.redman@lethsd.ab.ca), to co-ordinate availability.

One of the activities that week will be a "Dress like your favourite literary character" – just in case you wanted to get a head start on pulling a costume together now! There will be prizes!

Looking Ahead

Parent Teacher Interviews are Thursday, October 24th and Friday, October 25th The booking manager will be open Friday, October 11th at 6:30 am and will be found on the header of our website's main page. Here is a link on how to book interviews, using our new system:

NOTICE

The Lethbridge Police Service has been ticketing drivers for making U –turns after dropping off students. Please remember to make safe decisions when in the school zone.

As well, a general reminder that the zone in front of SJF is for buses immediately before and after school. Although the spaces may seem free, our 5 buses need to park there to pick up and drop off students.

Have a good week, everyone!
